A Resolution adopting a Police and Firefighters’ Pension Funding Policy.

EXPLANATION: The Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB), the organization that oversees and establishes the City’s required accounting standards, has released two new statements (GASB Statement No. 67 and No. 68) that will fundamentally change how state and local governments account for the cost of pension benefits in their financial statements. Previous accounting standards issued by GASB defined the annual pension Actuarially Required Contribution (ARC) for financial reporting purposes. These new statements separate pension accounting from pension funding and no longer define the ARC, so the City must adopt a pension funding policy to document how the ARC will be determined for the City’s single employer pension plans,
